

February 2nd, 2009

We Lost One

Febby was a very special little girl who had been severely abused and malnourished before she was admitted into our care in early December. A tough and intelligent kid, she bonded well with the other children.

Although strong in spirit, her body was weakened from years of malnourishment and abuse. Her immune system was so weak that she could not fight the chicken pox. Although we did everything that we could do to save her, she died on February 2nd in great pain.

Febby's goal for her life was to help people. In honor of her wishes, we want to extend our care and programs to the other 129 children who are living in compromised conditions right outside the walls of our orphanage. We are hoping for a donation that will make this possible.

Before she died, she wrote this letter to say goodbye to the people who helped her.

I Like your smile Sorry I have to say bye because I am sick. I have have Chicken pox I know God will heal me.
Love
Febby